Dear Thomas community,

I am pleased to share that Thomas has—for 24 years now—closed our books well “in the black.”

From a financial perspective, Thomas demonstrated record levels of capital and annual giving this year. Based on this incredible level of community support, we were encouraged to pursue a campaign goal of $12.5 million, which we are on track to achieve by December 2014, effectively closing the campaign one year early!

Thomas was unanimously re-accredited and received the very best possible report by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges.

In the past year, Thomas increased both the number and quality of our faculty members by hiring more professors (with more terminal degrees) to better balance the student-to-faculty ratio. We have also slowly and consistently ratcheted up our student selectivity by raising the high school GPA and SAT score minimums for consideration. As a result of this careful and strategic planning, we had record first-year admission, enrollment, retention, and residency rates.

These efforts improve the student learning experience, and we are working hard to also improve the overall student experience at Thomas. To that end, we have made partnerships with Unity College, Jobs for Maine Graduates, MaineGeneral, and others. We have hosted thousands of campus visitors from the Chamber of Commerce to the United Way, Leadership Unplugged, Odyssey of the Mind, Boys’ State, sports camps, and many other groups as part of our events and summer programming.

In addition to surpassing enrollment and fundraising goals, Thomas also broke ground on the largest expansion project in our history, the construction of two new buildings: the Harold Alfond Academic Center and Henry and Ellen Hinman Hall. Students began using these facilities in the 2014-2015 academic year, and these new buildings will significantly improve the campus residential and academic experience. And, with our strong business history, it is important to note that we built nearly $20 million in new infrastructure on schedule—at or below budget.

Thomas College is vibrant, growing, engaged, and excited. We are proud, developing, maturing in quality, and innovating. As we make strides in the face of enormous economic and demographic challenges, these accomplishments are worth celebrating.

I invite you to visit our campus and see for yourself, and I thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Laurie G. Lachance, M.B.A. ’92
President, Thomas College
Snapshots of the Past Year

In the 2013-2014 academic year, the Thomas family grew thanks to record-high enrollment and retention. With more students engaged in coursework, mentoring, internships, athletics, and co-curricular activities, the campus community became even more vibrant. Faculty and staff were thrilled to extend the Thomas mission to their work with these students – preparing students for success in their personal and professional lives, and for service in their communities.

In addition to adding to our growing student population, Thomas expanded its campus, beginning construction on not one but two new buildings: the Harold Alfond Academic Center and Henry and Ellen Hinman Hall.

The year culminated with a Commencement that will be hard to surpass; the largest graduating class in history celebrated in May.

Thomas continues to thrive and grow. The images here reflect the impact of our contributors, as well as the dedication of our faculty and staff and the enthusiasm of students, parents, and friends around the state and beyond.

President Laurie Lachance welcomed the 2013 incoming class with a resounding,

“You can do this! Never doubt that.”

- President Laurie Lachance

She announced that the Class of 2017 is the largest yet, with 296 students enrolling.
On Friday, October 18, 2013, Thomas College celebrated the groundbreaking of the Harold Alfond Academic Center.

“We knew that much had been accomplished and that the bar was high, but we were confident that you would raise your aspirations still higher, raise the bar if you will to grow even stronger. And you have done exactly that.”

- Greg Powell
Harold Alfond Foundation Chairman

Thomas College hosted its first Fulbright Scholar, Deepika Papneja from the Lady Shri Ram College for Women, University of New Delhi.

“This opportunity has been so much more than I could have expected. Humanity is what connects us all.”

- Deepika Papneja
On May 10, 2014, the first class of Engage, Develop, Guide, Empower (EDGE) students graduated. This innovative retention program for first-generation college students has grown to more than triple the original class.

“In my wildest dreams, I did not think we would have this much impact at the four-year mark.”

- Debbie Cunningham, Dean of Retention Services

In recognition of outstanding academic achievement as an undergraduate student, Ben Hubert ’13, M.B.A. ’14, was honored with the first Thomas Scholar Award. Ben received Bachelor of Science degrees in Accounting and Information Technology Management, achieving summa cum laude status.

The College’s 120th Commencement ceremony marked a new level of success in educating students, with a record 198 graduates.

“Your Thomas College education will deliver real value for your entire life.”

- Commencement Speaker and Honorary Degree Recipient Senator Susan Collins
Thomas College and Jobs for Maine’s Graduates (JMG) have forged a new partnership, funded in part by the Unity Foundation, to help more Maine students attain college degrees and land quality jobs after graduation. President Laurie Lachance said Thomas and JMG are perfectly aligned because both organizations ensure students gain skills that are valued by today’s employers, not just earn a diploma or degree.

“JMG has helped thousands of Maine youth achieve academic and professional success, while we put a college education and career within reach of all our students, many of whom are the first in their families to attend college.”

- President Laurie Lachance

In its accreditation process, the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) advocates for educational quality and its improvement, and is committed to maintaining high standards for all levels of education throughout the region.

In years gone by, the accreditation process presented significant challenges to Thomas. Our much smaller institution faced larger barriers and hurdles to overcome. Still, our community rose to the occasion to bring Thomas to where it is today.

This year, accreditation by NEASC was far different. The many strides Thomas has made since its last accreditation five years ago were easy to see for the visiting team of peer professionals, including making advances in academic programming, developing the physical campus, and building a strong and comprehensive strategic plan.

The rigorous review process, led by Provost Dr. Thomas Edwards, resulted in Thomas earning its re-accreditation, with the next full review required in ten years – an unprecedented approval for the College.
On October 18, 2013, Thomas held its annual Athletic Hall of Fame dinner and induction ceremony. Honorees for 2013 were Rodrigo Guzman ’89 with his brother Edgar Guzman ’89, and Jasmine Carey ’05.

“For me, it’s validation of the hard work and long hours I put in on and off the field. Having others recognize my hard work and dedication I had to softball is just a symbol for me that good things don’t go unnoticed!”

- Jasmine Carey ’05

Thomas also recognized members of the 1988 Men’s Soccer Team for their outstanding accomplishments, as well as Joe DeRoche ’88 for his induction into the New England Basketball Hall of Fame.

On March 15, 2014, Thomas Men’s Club Hockey team clinched the 2014 Central Maine Collegiate Conference Championship in a win over the University of Maine at Farmington, 3-0.

“Hockey’s been here at Thomas for a number of years. With the talent that we had, the program was destined to grow.”

- Coach T.J. Garske

Thomas joined the American Collegiate Hockey Association this season.
Thomas College began two of the largest building projects in its history: The Harold Alfond Academic Center and Henry and Ellen Hinman Hall.

“Who knows what opportunities will become available to us in the Harold Alfond Academic Center? I for one can’t wait to open the doors and find out for myself.”

- Jasmine Turner ’16

The Harold Alfond Academic Center houses classrooms, a state-of-the-art library, a financial center, a cafe’, and faculty offices. As a result of our steady growth, the Board of Trustees voted unanimously in October to begin construction on a new residence hall. The design of Henry and Ellen Hinman Hall exceeds 32,000 square feet and provides housing for 108 first-year students.

Thomas College has created this publication to recognize supporters of the College. In compiling this list as of June 30, 2014, we have attempted to list every individual, family, and business who has contributed to Thomas College. Any error on our part is completely unintentional. Please contact the Advancement Office with any questions or concerns at 207.859.1167 or pelletierc@thomas.edu.

*Denotes an in-kind gift
H - Honorary Degree
P - Parent(s) of a Thomas student(s)
The Student Philanthropy Team (SPT) organizes fun events on campus to raise awareness about philanthropy. Members of the SPT gain valuable leadership, event-planning, project-management, and marketing skills, while working to promote the importance of contributing to Thomas.
Alumni Giving to the Thomas Fund by Class Year

When you participate in the Four Seasons Society, your monthly gift is automatically deducted from a debit, credit, or checking account. Giving continues until you request that it stops, so you support Thomas students year in and year out. And a modest, monthly gift can really add up. Thomas thanks its Four Seasons Society members below.
