Some things never change.

Thanks to you, the Thomas tradition of providing an excellent education to hardworking students stands as strong as ever. From Main Street to Silver Street to West River Road, our mission has stayed true: to prepare students for success in their personal and professional lives, and for leadership and service in their communities.

That mission is possible with your support.

Please donate today. Your contribution to the Thomas Fund, the College's annual fundraising effort, can provide much-needed scholarships, help students prepare for internships and careers, allow faculty and staff to grow their skills, bolster athletic programs, improve the campus, and much more.

Thank you – and, here's to the next 125 years.

A Letter from the President

Dear Thomas Family,

I am pleased and proud to share this combined magazine and annual report. It is a busy time here on campus, and we are celebrating many accomplishments!

This year marks our 125th anniversary, and if you braved the cold temperatures on Homecoming and Family Weekend, you likely saw the anniversary video that highlights the history of Thomas from our roots on Main Street, our move to Silver Street, and our expansion to our current location on West River Road. If you missed the video, I encourage you to visit our website and follow us on social media. You can view the video and learn more about our inspiring faculty, staff, and students.

From a financial perspective, Thomas has—for 28 consecutive years—closed our books well in the black. Once again, the Lunder Scholars Golf Invitational raised a record amount of money for scholarships, and I am delighted to announce that we will be launching one of the very first varsity eSports programs in New England, thanks to the generosity of Bill and Joan Alford. I am also excited to share that Thomas was awarded $2.3 million from the U.S. Department of Education's Title III Strengthening Institutions Program, making Thomas the only private college in Maine to receive U.S. Department of Education funding from both Title III and the TRiO programs that support the aspirations of first-generation students from low-income families.

Also this Fall, we were thrilled to announce the opening of the Sukeforth Family Trail System! This network of trails provides a way to experience the natural beauty surrounding our campus, and we hope the Thomas family and the surrounding community will enjoy this feature for many years to come.

These updates are all wonderful acknowledgements of community confidence, and we are proud to carry such faith in our efforts.

As always, I invite you to visit our campus and see for yourself—and to please stop by my office when you do!

Sincerely,

Laurie G. Lachance, M.B.A. '92

Thomas College was founded in 1894, above the F. W. Woolworth Co. on Main Street in Waterville. At that time, it was unusual for women to pursue a college career—but, our students have never been afraid to be leaders. Since its beginning, the College has been co-educational and non-sectarian, and Thomas has stayed true to its roots as a college that helps prepare students for success in their professional careers.

Today, the College has grown into a thriving community of learners. We're proud of our history and are making big plans for our future.

What remains the same is our commitment to our students. We guarantee that you'll graduate with the education, professional skills, experience, network, and mentors to land a job and launch your career. Employers trust our college to produce interns and employees who can get big things done.

Thomas's Mission: Thomas College prepares students for success in their personal and professional lives, and for leadership and service in their communities.

Kiest Business College is founded and located three floors above the F.W. Woolworth Co. in downtown Waterville. It is a non-sectarian, co-educational college dedicated to career training.

1896

Kiest Business College, with a growing reputation, is purchased by William Morgan and renamed Morgan Business College.

1911

Morgan Business College is purchased by Peterborough, New Hampshire-based railroad administrator John L. Thomas Sr., himself a graduate. The College is renamed Morgan-Thomas Business College.

1950

Morgan-Thomas Business College is renamed Thomas Junior College.

The College moves to the former home of John Ware on Silver Street. In one of its two buildings, the College houses classrooms, a library, and administrative offices; the other includes a women's dormitory, dining room, a bookstore, and a student lounge. John L. Thomas, Jr. is named President.

Maine State Legislature grants the College the right to confer Associate in Arts and Associate in Secretarial science degrees.

Thomas College is re-chartered as a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit institution.

Thomas launches the Guaranteed Job Program, the first of its kind in the nation.

Thomas celebrates the opening of the 301-seat Laurette Ayotte Auditorium. The College announces partnerships with the Maine Criminal Justice Academy and Putnam Investments, which opens a center on campus. The College begins to add new majors in the arts and life sciences to its offerings, including Education, Computer Science, Psychology, and Criminal Justice.

The College opens Bartlett Hall, a 100-bed student residence.

The Harold Alfond Athletic Center opens and includes a field house, fitness center, weight room, and locker rooms. A new Master of Science in Education program is launched.

The College purchases 50 acres of land on the southern border of the existing campus for future growth.

The College opens three Townhouse units, which accommodate 88 students in two-floor, suite-style living areas.

The academic and administration building, later renamed the Conrad L. Ayotte Academic Center, gets a new Welcome Center. The semi-circle driveway is replaced with landscaping; this is the first phase of making campus more pedestrian friendly.

The first phase of the Spann Student Commons is completed. The Dining Center is fully renovated and a multi-purpose event and meeting space, the Summit Room, is added.

Laurie Lachance M.B.A. '92 is named the fifth President. She is the first female and first alumna to hold the office. At the south end of campus, on a portion of the acreage purchased in 2007, the Kennebec Savings Turf Field Complex opens and features two multi-purpose turf fields, Bernatchez and Smith Fields. A second entryway is built to create easy access to the fields for community members; it is later named Vining Drive. The second phase of the Spann Student Commons is completed, including the Dog Pound – a student gathering place, café, pub, and campus store – as well as renovated student recreation space.

Students may now enroll in an accelerated MBA program, allowing them to earn the degree in ten months.

The Harold Alfond Academic Center opens – the second academic facility on campus. It includes the H. Allen Ryan School of Business, the Kenneth and Eva Green Library, Jeanie's Café, the Bert and Coral Clifford Financial Center, as well as classrooms, a student success center, study rooms, and faculty offices.

The College also opens another residence hall, Henry and Ellen Hinman Hall. The main entrance is relocated to accommodate construction and is later named Sheridan Drive.

Thomas graduates its first Kiest-Morgan participants. The program is the College's formal, three-year undergraduate degree program.

The College begins to celebrate its 125th year, which will culminate with Commencement in Spring 2019.

The Eugley Family

By Erin Baltes

Doug and Colleen (Payne) Eugley P'15, both members of the Thomas College Class of 1983, recall their time as students fondly. When their daughter Alyssa enrolled in 2011, they were delighted – if not surprised.

“Thomas was a logical choice for me,” says Alyssa, now working for Harvard Pilgrim Insurance and engaged to be married in 2020. “I wanted to play sports and stay close to home.” Her parents nod along, all of them sitting around the kitchen table for an evening conversation about the impact their alma mater had on them.

Doug, Colleen, and Alyssa all chose Thomas for very practical reasons. “I went to Mount Blue High School in Farmington and wanted to go to a school where I could get business skills,” Colleen notes.

“I grew up in Lincolnville,” says Doug. “I went to Camden-Rockport High School, where I met Link Brown, the head of Thomas admissions. He was recruiting students, and I really enjoyed talking with him. There were kids ahead of me who went to Thomas, too, so I felt comfortable going someplace new – where I could still be close to home.”

Doug admits that he was persistent in his courting of Colleen. “I held a work-study job in the cafeteria and kept insisting on seeing her student ID,” he laughs. “I wanted to know her name.”

“I got really mad because it was a small school; he didn’t need to see my ID!” Colleen recounts.

Doug discovered which dormitory was Colleen’s and visited her to ask her on a date. “I was shot down,” he adds. Doug made a point of getting to know Colleen and her friends. “Then, after Columbus Day Weekend, she told me she had broken it off with her boyfriend at home. The following Saturday, we went to the Manor – the nice place in town at the time – and had popovers. That was our first date.”

Little did Doug and Colleen know that after graduating, they would marry and raise two girls just a few miles from Thomas in Sidney, Maine. The couple celebrated their 30th anniversary this fall.

Proximity to campus aside, the Eugleys have stayed involved at Thomas, whether by attending alumni gatherings, advocating for contributions on the annual Day of Giving, or volunteering. “We’re happy to give back,” says Doug. “We are proud to be Thomas grads, and we really believe in the education it provides to students.”

The Corrigan Family

By MacKenzie Riley Young

Zeno and Melissa met in the Fall of their freshman year at Thomas. Zeno lived on the floor below Melissa. They were friends and involved in some of the same clubs. He remembers that he had decided that Melissa was “the one” because of his professor Philomena McPhee-Brown.

“Philomena was a matchmaker,” said Zeno. “One day, when I was student teaching, she dropped in for a visit/observation and brought a surprise guest – Melissa.”

More than 20 years after meeting and graduating from Thomas College, the Corrigans are happily married, have successful careers, and their daughter, Natalie, is now a Thomas College student.

Melissa and Zeno both remember the close community of Thomas College, and it’s a big reason they loved attending the school.

“Staff and faculty made you feel like you were home,” said Zeno. Melissa agreed saying, “There was a strong sense of a close community, and it seemed that you knew everyone.”

Melissa and Zeno were both very involved on campus. Melissa was a resident assistant for two years, on Student Council all four years, and was a member of PBL. Zeno was part of the Alpha Gamma Delta fraternity, PBL member all four years and President for two, member of the Judicial Board, member of the Drama Club, and he ran the Thomas College pub for two years. Inside the classroom, they said the professors made all the difference.

“The professors at Thomas engaged their students and made learning fun,” said Melissa. “They interacted with students outside of the classrooms, and you could see them on campus for different functions. They were enthusiastic and passionate about what they taught.”

Zeno cites many professors and staff that influenced him along the way, including Nelson Madore, Philomena McPhee-Brown, Moe St. Pierre, and Charlie from Security. But, there was one professor that became family – Roberta Tibbetts.

Roberta, who just celebrated her 47th work anniversary, was the first person Zeno met when he toured campus. “She made me feel like Thomas was the right place for me to be,” said Zeno. “As I went through college, she became a mentor to me and someone that I could bounce my crazy ideas off from. After graduation, I taught with her at Mid-State College and became a part of her family.”

“When we started our family, Roberta and David became Gram and Bumpa, and her two sons became uncles to our children. The Thomas family had afforded me the opportunity to become part of the Tibbetts’ family. Through the years, she has inspired me and continues to be my mentor and at times my voice of reason,” said Zeno.

Melissa also cherishes the relationship they’ve created with Roberta and David Tibbetts.

“They have always been there when we needed someone to take care of our kids when I had to be with Zeno for a business trip or dinner. With no immediate family in the area, they would take the kids and dogs,” said Melissa. “Roberta has also provided emotional support and wisdom to both of us throughout the years.”

Melissa and Zeno both left Thomas College and began their journey to successful careers in Maine. They said their time at Thomas prepared them well.

“The small, close-knit atmosphere allowed me to be involved in various clubs and activities that helped me gain more self-confidence, overcome shyness, and become a leader,” said Melissa. “Management classes and psychology classes gave me a foundation to aid in my career in human resources.”

“When I first entered college, I was overwhelmed by the amount of work that was given by the professors. I had to quickly learn how to manage my time, be organized, and to prioritize,” said Melissa. “These are skills that I utilize today in my current position as human resource generalist with the State of Maine – Department of Corrections Service Center.”

Zeno says, “The community atmosphere of Thomas College prepared me for my career success with emotional intelligence, social skills, and the opportunity to be a leader.”

“Without this ability to lead at a young age, it would not have afforded me the chance to be in a management track program at Pine State Trading Company, now known as Core-Mark International,” said Zeno.

After 23 years of working in various senior management positions, Zeno was recently promoted to New England Division President. Zeno manages $1.6 billion in sales, approximately 700 employees, two distribution facilities, and five cross-stock facilities, servicing convenience stores from Buffalo, NY to Fort Kent, ME.

More than 20 years later, Melissa and Zeno’s daughter, Natalie, is a marketing management student at Thomas College. Natalie also runs for the cross-country team and will graduate in May 2019.

Melissa and Zeno graduated as part of the 100th class at Thomas, and Natalie will graduate as part of the 125th class. “I enjoy that I am going to the same school that my parents went to,” said Natalie.

The campus might look a lot different than when Natalie’s parents attended, but it’s still the same Thomas – plus, she even has some of the same professors her parents did, including Roberta Tibbetts, Dog Wallace, and Pat Karush.

Natalie echoes some of the same sentiments that her parents said about Thomas College’s family oriented environment and the special people you meet when you’re here.

“Thomas has changed my life by giving me the time and attention I need to succeed in school and to go places in life,” said Natalie. “They have also helped me to create some pretty amazing connections throughout my time here. Thomas has given me a great group of friends, and my boyfriend is a graduate of Thomas as well.”

Natalie likes to think they may be following in the same footsteps as her parents did. “Thomas truly is my family inside and out,” said Natalie. “I can’t imagine having a better school to be a part of my family.”

15th Annual Lunder Scholars Golf Invitational Breaks Records Again

Despite brief interludes of wind and rain, the 15th Annual Lunder Scholars Golf Invitational on Friday, September 21, was a success by any measure.

With sponsorships once again sold out, golfers made the rounds at the beautiful Belgrade Lakes Golf Club. After a fun day on the links, the group gathered for awards and prizes, along with benefactors Peter H'10 and Paula Lunder H'10.

President Laurie Lachance M.B.A. '92 led the group in wishing Peter a happy belated 85th birthday, and in thanking the repeat and new team sponsors, Senior VP of Advancement Bob Moore '79 relayed to the crowd a story of a recent visit with the Lunders. "With a goal to raise $100,000 this year, Paula suggested that we aim to raise $125,000 to mark the College's 125th anniversary," he recalled. "I suggested that I should have had her on our golf committee months ago!" Sure enough, with the Lunders generously matching net proceeds for the 15th consecutive year, more than $260,000 was raised (a new record) and added to their endowed scholarship fund.

Proceeds from the golf tournament benefit the Lunder Scholars Endowment Fund, which provides crucial scholarship support for Maine students attending Thomas. Since 2002, the fund – established with the

Celebrating 125 Years

On Saturday, October 13, the College community celebrated the launch of the institution's 125th year.

With a crowd of more than 200 gathered, Senior VP of Advancement Bob Moore '79 introduced President Lachance M.B.A. '92, trustee Kelley Shimansky '89, and student-athlete Katie Taylor '19, who each reflected on the many ways in which Thomas has grown – yet the key ways in which it has remained the same.

“What we had, we had to build,” said Kelley Shimansky, noting Thomas’s small size during the 1980s, and reflecting on the engagement and camaraderie of students.

“When I think about ‘appreciating today or the now,’” said Katie Taylor, “I think about how many students before me have had, and how many students after me will experience, these amazing moments that I have come to cherish. I don’t think that I can thoroughly appreciate today, without those who have been so instrumental in my successes here, such as my professors, coaches, teammates, and friends.” Taylor spoke immediately following her win as a member of the field hockey team.

President Lachance remarked on the power of the community that makes Thomas the family that it is, and how instrumental it has been in helping students achieve personal and professional success for 125 years. “As we look to the future,” she said, “we can continue to celebrate the achievements of our talented, hard-working, and caring students and alumni as they capitalize on gifts they have received from their incredible faculty members, coaches, and mentors.” She also thanked the supporters in the crowd, including Doug and Rita Sukeforth, whose generosity helped to build a new campus trail system to enhance health, wellness, and safety.

The students, families, alumni, beloved faculty members, staff, and friends in attendance stayed for the Men’s Soccer match against Husson, live music from the School Street Trio, delicious pizza thanks to a donation from Steel House Oven food truck, and an evening fireworks display over the Kennebec Savings Bank Turf Fields.

Donna (Andrews) '49 and Leland Bessey '50 met at Thomas College when it was on Main Street in Waterville. They married shortly after graduating and made their home and careers right here in central Maine.

The Besseys said their education helped them throughout their life, and they wouldn't have been successful without their time at Thomas College. Plus, Leland said: "I didn't know I was going to get a wife out of it."

Now in their 90s, celebrating their 69th wedding anniversary, they love coming back to visit Thomas College – they can't believe how much it has changed.

"On Main Street, we didn't have a gym or anything to have these socials – other than the Grange Hall over in Winslow," said Leland.

"They didn't guarantee anything!" said Donna. Donna and Leland were able to attend the 125th anniversary celebration under the tent on October 13 and enjoyed seeing people from their past – even though they pointed out they were some of the oldest alumni there.

"I can't believe how much it has grown from the third floor over Woolworth's to the campus that you have here now – it's outstanding," said Leland.

In her new role, Amanda will support the Choice Wealth Advisor team (three of four of whom are also Thomas alums!) and in the near future will begin training to become a certified financial planner. Amanda has also begun volunteering for Thomas in its Life After Thomas and Class Agent Programs. Members of the Class of 2012, please send updates on jobs, families, moves, and other adventures to Amanda for publication in the Thomas Magazine to adrummond@choicewealthadv.com.

Sara (Pavento) and husband, Jeffery Jones, Jr., tied the knot on July 27, 2018, at the Penobscot Valley Country Club in Orono, ME.

Congratulations to Tiffany (Willman) Moody and husband Willis who welcomed their first child, a baby girl, Willow Paige Moody, 7 lbs 10 oz and 20.5" long on September 1, 2018.

Jillian Sloban '12, M.B.A. '12 and Jeff Banville '13, M.B.A. '14 donated a gift of $500 to the College this fall in lieu of handing out favors to their wedding guests. This is how much they love Thomas College!

2013

Congratulations to Samuel Fisher, who started a new position in August as a technical support specialist at iSubscribed.

Sarah Marckoon '13, M.B.A. '13 has accepted a position with Saint Joseph's College as the Assistant Volleyball Coach.

Alumni Class Notes

In the Spring/Summer 2018 magazine we highlighted Scott Boies '18 with an image of Scott hugging "his mother" after the Commencement ceremony. We were mistaken. This is Scott with his mom!

Scott has recently secured a position with Baker Newman Noyes as a tax and audit intern. Great job!

Sarah (Peterson) '15 M.B.A. '18 and Jason Webster '16 welcomed their first child, Emerson Scott Webster, into their family on September 22. He weighed 6 lbs 8 oz and was 20.5" long.

2016

Jessica Hudson '16 and Benjamin Savage '14 (who is an officer for Portland PD) were recently engaged on August 2, 2018, in New York City! They currently reside in South Portland, ME, and are planning a September 2020 wedding.

Ryan Newman '16, M.B.A. '17 started a new position in July with NAMI Maine as their Fiscal and Operations Manager.

2017

In June, Tessa Johnson '17, M.B.A. '18 accepted a position as a staff accountant with Melanson Heath, out of Nashua, NH. Since being hired, Tessa has had the opportunity to work primarily on the Commercial Tax team, but has also been working on Forensic Investigation, Business Valuation, and Municipal Audits.

Jennifer Lemay '17, M.B.A. '18 recently accepted a new position in June with Albin, Randall & Bennett as an accountant.

Congratulations to Mayson Picard '17, M.B.A. '18, who recently passed her CPA exam in July to receive her CPA license. Mayson currently works for BerryDunn.

In June, Hollie (Kozlowski) Probin, accepted a position as a child protective social worker for the State of Maine Department of Health and Human Services and is currently based out of Lewiston, ME.

2018

Fall Round-up Athletics

By Cameron Creamer '15, M.B.A. '16

Thomas Athletics had one of its best starts in school history, thanks to a championship-filled fall season. Men's Soccer won their fifth North Atlantic Conference (NAC) Championship and competed in the NCAA Division III Tournament.

Field Hockey won its first NAC Championship in program history after an undefeated conference season and finished runner-up in the NECC Championship. Women's Soccer finished their conference season undefeated and entered the NAC Tournament as the number one seed before falling in the championship game. Golf returned to the NCAA level this season and the team competed in its first NAC Championship since 2009.

Along with the team success this year, Thomas student-athletes had some great individual success. Cross Country junior Jarrod Ottman won the first NAC Individual Championship and Player of the Year in program history. Women's Soccer freshman Katherine Hoving ranked third in the country with 27 goals on the season, the most goals in a season in program history, and was named NAC Rookie of the Year. Field Hockey's Kelci Faulkingham was named NAC Player of the Year, while Tiffany Weeks earned Defensive Player of the Year. Kyle Patterson was also named NAC Men's Soccer Rookie of the Year. The Terriers had 16 student-athletes named to All-Conference teams and also had two NAC Coaches of the Year in Field Hockey's Andrea Theborge and Women's Soccer's Deb Biche-Labbe.

The Terriers were well represented in the NAC Weekly Awards all season long as well. Field Hockey had six different players earn Player of the Week and sweep all three awards (Player, Rookie, and Defensive Player) six times. Jarrod Ottman was named Runner of the Week five times, while Men's Soccer's Jonathan Dutka won Defensive Player of the Week three times. Overall, the Terriers have had 15 Players/Runners of the Week, 15 Rookies of the Week, and 13 Defensive Players of the Week.

For the latest on Thomas Athletics, follow the Terriers on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter @TCTerriers.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Men's Soccer won their fifth North Atlantic Conference (NAC) Championship!

Honoring Rob Nutter '12

On August 31, 2018, Rob Nutter, a graduate of the Class of 2012, lost his courageous battle with leukemia. As a student and teammate, Rob epitomized leadership and friendship. He was beloved among classmates and known for his dedication and sportsmanship.

This year, just two short months after his passing, Rob's baseball teammates were inducted into the College's Athletic Hall of Fame, a ceremony that kicked off Homecoming & Family Weekend.

In his memory, the Rob Nutter '12 Teammate Award was announced at this year's event and will be granted each spring to a graduating student-athlete known for their outstanding commitment and contributions to their team. The recipient is recognized for steadfast support and leadership to their fellow teammates.

Each year, the Rob Nutter '12 Teammate Award winner will be invited to the annual Athletic Hall of Fame Dinner held that fall and will be recognized alongside that year's inductees.

Baseball Coach and Professor Greg King, who coached Nutter and the honored 2012 team, said, "The Rob Nutter '12 Teammate Award will ensure that Rob's legacy will carry on and be forever remembered by the Thomas College community. The Award will serve as a constant reminder of his character, dedication, and fighting spirit. I consider this Award to be one of, if not the, most prestigious awards presented by the Thomas athletic department."

Athletic Director Shanda Ness agreed, adding, "Being recognized as an exceptional teammate is the highest compliment in sports. Putting the needs of the team over your own is about character and who you are as a person, and those qualities are contagious and last a lifetime."

Thomas College has created this publication to recognize supporters of the College. In compiling this list as of June 30, 2018, we have attempted to list every individual, family, and business who has contributed to Thomas College. Any error on our part is completely unintentional.

Please contact the Advancement Office with any questions or concerns at 207.859.1221 or devdb@thomas.edu.

*Denotes an in-kind gift
 H - Honorary Degree
 P - Parent(s) of Thomas student(s)
 🍁 - Four Seasons Society Member

“The true meaning of life is to plant trees under whose shade you do not expect to sit.”

– Nelson Henderson

A planned gift to Thomas College, such as a bequest in your will, can help you achieve both personal financial goals and your philanthropic goals. With careful planning, you may also be able to contribute a larger gift than otherwise possible – and create a lasting legacy for generation of students to come.

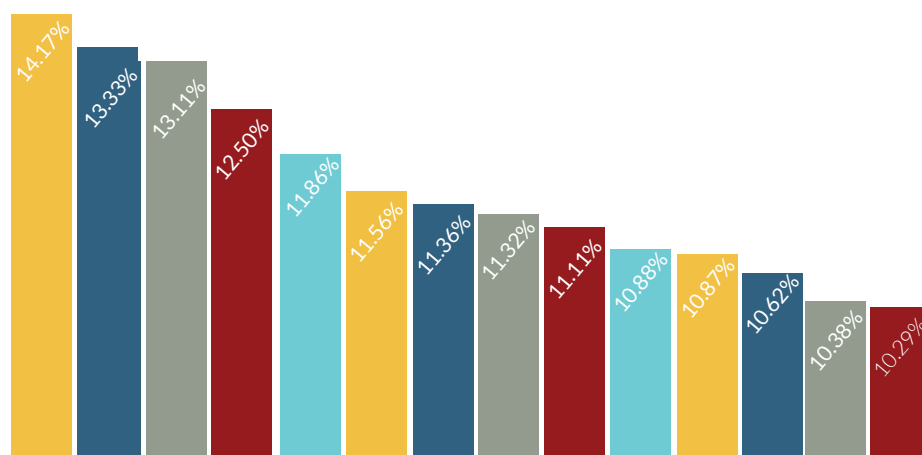

Individuals who include the College in their plans are included in our Frank Bartlett Society, named for the dedicated and generous trustee who helped to establish the College’s endowment through a significant bequest.

No matter why you choose to include Thomas in your charitable plans, your support is greatly appreciated.

Thank you.

For more information, please contact Erin Baltes, Assistant VP of Advancement, at baltese@thomas.edu or (207) 859-1327.
