

Thomas Partner Highlight: MMA: Follow Your Stars

I'm really proud to be a Thomas graduate and when I first started talking about the idea of getting a Master's in Business Administration, the person I worked for at the time told me that I was wasting my time and that it was going to be a crazy waste of money and that I could use my energy to do something else that would be more impactful for my career.

He could not have been more wrong. Just everything that has happened in my professional life since I earned my MBA has been like changing my stars and I am so grateful.
